Code Dating Explanation

Unit Code Dating: The coding information can be found on the top of the bottle cap. Coded with a one digit plant identifier, a five digit date-of-pack code date, a one digit batch number, followed by a three character product descriptor (as shown on the 'Items' list below) and the four digit military time. The second line contains the use by date in MM/DD/YY format.

Example: M12181-1 AJN 14:30
USE BY 12/18/12

M = Plant Identifier
12 = Month (December)
18 = Day of Month
1 = Year (2011)
1 = Batch number
AJ = Product Descriptor (Apple Juice)
N = Product Consistency (N=Nectar, H=Honey)
14:30 = Bottling Time (2:30 pm)
USE BY 12/18/12 = Use By Date

Corrugate Code Dating: Coded on two sides with a single digit plant identifier, a five digit date-of-pack code date, and a one digit batch number followed by the product name and consistency (as shown in the 'Items' list below) and the product number. The second line contains the use-by-date; USE BY MM/DD/YY format, a four digit military case-pack time and sequential case count. The third and fourth lines contain the bar code and GTIN.
